AI-FIRST CURRICULUM

The AI era is rewriting tech roles.
We rebuilt the program for it.

Every job description in today's world is being rewritten. 66% of leaders say they would not hire professionals who lack AI expertise. The reason is obvious: any repetitive or analytical tasks can now be automated, leaving employees to focus on strategy, creativity, and human-centric skills.

And the software and data professionals who will grow aren't just the ones using AI tools; they're the ones who understand systems deeply enough to know when AI gets it wrong.

That's why we've reimagined every single component of our curriculum from the ground up: fundamentals that form the backbone of any production, combined with the AI-first approach that the industry is already hiring for. Not one at the cost of the other. Because the future belongs to tech professionals who can do and ace at both.
